Day Sixteen: May 16, 2020

FREE RESOURCES FROM BYTE CAMP

As we collectively adjust to online learning, the small (but mighty!) Byte Camp Team has been working hard to create FREE lessons for kids to access from their computers at home.

Each weekday for the foreseeable future, Byte Camp will be releasing new lessons on our Facebook and YouTube channels. They'll be teaching coding, 3D Design, animation and more!

Videos can be accessed on Byte Camp's YouTube channel here:

We hope that by providing these resources during difficult times, many youth will discover new interests and develop their creative technology skills!

From the Byte Camp Family to yours, stay safe and hope to see you soon!
